Il rubinetto Gio Ponti è stato disegnato dal celebre architetto italiano nel 1953. Ciò che lo caratterizza è il particolare “angolo pontiano”, un gioco di linee e inclinazioni che dà vita al disegno iconico di una stella. Talmente all’avanguardia negli anni ’50 da essere contemporaneo oggi, il che ha permesso l’adozione di una nuova tecnologia finalizzata al risparmio energetico nel pieno rispetto del disegno originale del maestro. “Un’architettura è davvero bella se è bella ancora cinquant’anni dopo che sorse.”

The Gio Ponti faucet was designed by the renowned Italian architect in 1953. It is distinguished by the distinctive “Pontian angle,” a play of lines and inclinations that gives life to its iconic star-shaped design. So avant-garde in the 1950s that it remains contemporary today, it has now been enhanced with innovative technology aimed at energy conservation—all while fully respecting the master’s original design. “Architecture is truly beautiful if it is still beautiful fifty years after it was built.”
